Australian Catholic Superannuation and Catholic School Parents Australia announce further five - year partnership agreement.

Australian Catholic Superannuation and Retirement Fund (Australian Catholic Superannuation) has entered into a further five - year partnership agreement with Catholic School Parents Australia (CSPA), the national peak representative and advocacy body for parents with children in Australian Catholic schools.

Both organisations have close ties with the Catholic Education sector and share common objectives for promoting and supporting the Church's mission in providing quality education in Catholic schools throughout Australia.

Australian Catholic Superannuation is the super fund of choice for the Catholic sector with over $9.7 billion in funds under management and over 85,000 members, the majority being employees in Catholic schools and Catholic agencies. Greg Cantor, CEO at Australian Catholic Superannuation said, "I am pleased that this unique partnership with CSPA is continuing. Growing the Fund's footprint and assisting parents of children in Catholic schools with their superannuation and retirement planning needs are directly aligned to our mission. We are also keen to support CSPA's work in relation to engaging parents in their children's learning."

CSPA was formed in 2013 and provides a distinctive voice for the parents and carers of the 765,000 students in Australian Catholic Schools. Karl Rodrigues, CSPA Chair said, "We look forward to continuing this vital partnership with Australian Catholic Superannuation and further building on our common interests in supporting and promoting Catholic education."
